Remember: Accommodations are changes to materials, procedures, or techniques that allow a student to participate meaningfully in grade-level or course instruction. Accommodations provided during classroom instruction/testing might differ from accommodations that are allowable for use on state assessments. A particular teaching tool or strategy might be scaffolded during the year as the student learns the material – until it is in a form allowable for use on a state assessment.

Student may start with labeled and colorized Mr. Gallon, then transition to labeled-only, then to a form allowable on STAAR
